Dishissed.—We learn that one of the watchmen by the name of Stoddard, who appeared on duty drunk on Thursday night, was yesterday summarily dismissed. This prompt action will serve as a caution to our officials, This prompt action will serve as a caution to our officials, and is an augury of an improved condition of affairs in our city. Those on whom the citizens rely for the pro-tection of their persons and property should at all times appear on duty perfectly sober, or else little confidence an be reposed in their efficiency.

THE GREAT WONDER OF THE NINETEENTH Contury, Professor WOOD'S Hair Restorative.

Says the St. Louis (Mo.) Democrat: Below we publish a letter to Dr. Wood, of this city, from a gentleman in Mattee, which speaks glowingly of the superior merits of his hair tonic. Such evidence must have its effect when coming from a reliable source. If certificates are guarantees of truth, the Doctor needs no encominum nor useless puffery from the press:

PROF. O. J. Wood & Co.: Gentlemen: Having my attention called a few months since to the highly beneficial effects of your hair restorative, I was induced to make application of it upon my own hair, which had become quite gray, probably one-third white; my whiskers were of the same character. Some three months since I procured a bottle of your Hair Restorative, and used it. I soon found it was proving what that wished. I used it about twice a week. I have since procured another bottle, of which I have used some. I can now certify to the worth that the gray or white hair has totally disappeared, both on my head and face, and my hair has resumed its natural color, and I believe more acft and glossy than it has been hefere for twenty five years. I am now stay years old; my good wife, at the age of fifty two, has used it with the same effect.

The above notice I deem due to you for your valuable discovery. I am assured that wheever will rightly use, as per directions, will not have occasion to contradict my statements. I am a citizen of this city and a residout here for the last fifteen years, and am known to nearly every one here and seljoining towns. Any use you may make of the above, with my name attacked, is at your service, as I wish to preserve the beauties of nature in others as well as mysed.

Вагимови, Jan. 23, 1858. WOOD'S HAIR RESTORATIVE.

WOOD'S HAIR RESTORATIVE.

Paop. Wood: Dear sir: Having had the misfortune to lose the best portion of my hair, from the effects of the yellow fever in New Orleans, in 1504, I was induced to make a trial of your preparation, and found it to answer as the very thing needed. My hair is now thick and glossy, and no words can express my obligations to you in giving to the afflicted such a treasure.

The undersigned, J. K. Bragg, is a minister in regular standing, and pastor of the Ortholox Church at Brookfield, Massachusette. He is a gentleman of great influence and universally beloved. WM. DYPR.

ST. VINCENT'S SCHOOLS.—The Day-schools attached to St. Vincent's Aaylum will reasune business on Wednesday next, ist of September. The large addition lately made to the house affords a fine opportunity of reastranging the schools, and after the experience of last year they will begin this term with very many advantages. There are, in fact, three distinct schools at St. Vincent's the Orphane's School, the Free School for day scholars, and the Pay School. The first is, of course, for the orphane inmastes of the Aaylum, who, in their discipline and education, are under the immediate care of Sisters detailed for themselves. The second, or Free School, is to nocet the wants of poor children, whose parents cannot pay, and all who are thus circumstanced are carnestly pressed to scool their children to this school. It is entirely distinct, but just as diligently at leaded to as any other, the training and teaching being strictly attice in all. If the results be not always what might be desired, periags the fairest explanation of it is, that the poor parents can soldon leave their children long enough at school. The third is the Pay School. The Sisters of Charity have a Pay School only in aid of the charities required for the support of the orphane. In this school it is literally true that the Sisters teach, work, and earn for the orphane, as it is also true that all who send their children for really so far contribute to support the orphane; and if this were not so, the Sisters of Charity would not be permitted to keep a Pay School. All that is truly required for the parentical purposes of life, all that constitutes a sound and through English education, is well taught in this school; and in all its circumstances, its charitable object, its method of cultivating mind and heart, there is no more interesting or more important school for girls within the District, combining, under a very joffictour management, comparatively little expense to parents with a full average improvement of the children.
